San Francisco, CA (March 6, 2009) – The American Institute of Architects, San Francisco chapter (AIA San Francisco) announces the winners of the 2009 AIA San Francisco Design Awards program. The winners were revealed and celebrated last night at a special gala held at the San Francisco Design Center in San Francisco's SOMA neighborhood. The emcees for the evening were Sarah Lynch, Executive Editor, California Home + Design and Don Rudy, AIA San Francisco Board President.

At the gala, winners were recognized for their outstanding contributions to the built environment in the categories of Architecture and Interior Architecture, Energy + Sustainability, Integrated Practice, Young Architects and Associates, Unbuilt Design, and Urban Design in the Bay Area. Each of these award categories was divided into three subcategories—Honor, Merit, and Citation. In addition, awards for Special Achievement were also presented.

Each of the winning projects is featured in the March/April issue of California Home + Design magazine.

Complete information on the 2009 AIA San Francisco Design Award winners can be found at www.aiasf.org/awards. All award-winning projects will be on exhibition at the AIA National Convention taking place at the Moscone Center in San Francisco April 30 - May 2, 2009.
